

SAFEGUARDING AIDE MEMOIRE

Dealing with a Disclosure

- Stop and listen to what is being said without displaying shock or disbelief.
- Allow the child or vulnerable adult to talk freely (do not interrupt).
- Reassure the child or vulnerable adult, but do not make any promises (especially on confidentiality).
- Reassure the child or vulnerable adult that what has happened is not their fault and that it was right to tell.
- Listen, rather than ask direct questions.
- Explain what has to be done next and who has to be told.

Recording Disclosure

 - The date, time and place of discussion, plus the names of those present and the names of any observers.
 - Draw a diagram to indicate the position of any bruising or injury.
 - Statements made by the child or vulnerable adult and your observations which should be limited to the behaviour and demeanour of the child or vulnerable adult.
 - What you told the child or vulnerable adult about what you are going to do next.
 - Any concerns about the child or vulnerable adult going home.
- Do not destroy the original notes in case they are required by a court.
